Cookies and How Company Collects Aggregate Information Through Technological Means

When you visit our website, we may collect information that is automatically sent to us by your web browser or your internet service provider. To enhance your experience on our website, we may use a feature on your Internet browser called a cookie and/or other similar devices. Cookies are small files that your web browser places on your computer's hard drive. They are used for a variety of reasons, such as tracking click streams, and for load balancing. Information tracked through these mechanisms may include, but is not limited to: (i) your domain name; (ii) your IP address; (iii) the type of web browser and operating system being used; and (iv) the pages of our website a user visits or the files they request. Depending on the third party social media sites users participate in, we may obtain aggregate, statistical information regarding the gender and age range of visitors to our website. We use this information in the aggregate, and do not link it to your Personal Information. The amount of information that is sent by your web browser or by third-party vendors depends on the browser and settings you use, including your cookie settings.

We use this anonymous information to better understand how visitors use our website, to deliver faster service, consistent, updated results, and a more personalized experience on our website and to improve our website to better meet your needs. We may also use cookies in order to help us or third parties display advertising to you when you visit our website or third party sites based on your interest in our website.

Your browser gives you the option to reject cookies. Please refer to the instructions provided by your browser if you want to learn more about how to disable cookies. You may also refer to <http://iabcanada.com/guidelines/adchoices/> for a better understanding of, as well as greater control over, the ads that are displayed to you based on your online behavior. However, setting your browser to reject cookies generally hinders the browser's performance and may adversely affect your experience while using our website.

The Commitment We Make To Customers When They Share Personal Information

When you provide information to us, your personal information may be used or disclosed for the Identified Purposes among Www.eossecurity.com, their affiliates, monitoring , parts manufacturers and/or third parties, including third party financing companies and credit agencies.

Consent

Your knowledge and consent is generally required before we may collect, use or disclose your personal information. Explicit consent is not required where your consent is deemed by law or not required by law. These situations may include an investigation by the police where personal information is publicly available or in situations where otherwise permitted by law. In cases where we collect personal information that requires consent, we will obtain specific written or oral consent from you before collecting, using or disclosing such information. If you provide information regarding eligibility for financing, you are consenting to our disclosure of such information to third party financing companies and/or credit agencies

Protection of Personal Information

Personal information will be kept at the offices of Www.eossecurity.com . All electronic and paper based information will be maintained under strict security systems appropriate to sensitivity of the personal information to safeguard all personal information that is in the custody or in the control of Www.eossecurity.com from unauthorized access, collection, use, disclosure, copying, modification, disposal, or similar risks.

All third parties that obtain personal information from Www.eossecurity.com are contractually required to protect customers' confidentiality in a manner consistent with this policy, and/or as required by law.

Customers' Right To Access Their Personal Information

You may access the personal information that we maintain in our custody or under our control.

How a Customer Accesses Their Personal Information

If you want access to your personal information you must make a request in writing to Www.eossecurity.com's Privacy Officer, stating the specific personal information you are requesting.

Withdrawing Consent

You may withdraw your consent to the collection, use or disclosure of your personal information at any time on reasonable notice, subject to legal or contractual restrictions (such as where we have arranged to extend credit to you and are required to collect or disclose your personal information on an ongoing basis from or to third parties). If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products and services to you. You may withdraw same by contacting us as per below.
